BEST POINTS OF CONTACT FOR MFA STUDENTS:

- Farid Matuk, Program Director (PD), ML 488 (matuk@arizona.edu)
- Stephanie Mao, Program Coordinator (PC) (smao@arizona.edu)

OTHER PLACES TO GO IF YOU HAVE QUESTIONS OR CONCERNS

- The Program Director (PD) is available to talk about any concerns you may have or to answer any questions.
- Logistical questions are usually best directed to, in this order, the PC then the PD.
- Questions about your degree paperwork are usually best directed to, in this order: the PC, then the Graduate College Student Support Specialist.
- Questions/concerns about your Writing Program teaching are best brought to the Writing Program, but it can be useful to loop in the PC or the PD if you need us.
- For anything you don't feel comfortable bringing to the attention of the PC or PD for whatever reason, you may contact Cristina Ramírez, Head of the English Dept.
- For anything, but especially for concerns that you feel may be shared by other graduate students in CW or English: The EGU (English Graduate Union), <http://english.arizona.edu/english-graduate-union-egu>; egucochairs@gmail.com.
- For concerns about issues of diversity, equity, and inclusion: If you'd rather not bring these to the PD, please feel free to bring them to any of our faculty members.
- If you feel that you've witnessed or experienced discriminatory conduct, all of us (especially the PD) are good initial points of contact for your concerns. We will also direct you to consult (and report your concerns if appropriate) to The Office of Institutional Equity (OIE): <http://equity.arizona.edu/>. The University's policy strictly prohibits retaliation against an individual for reporting perceived discrimination or participating in a resulting investigation.
- When in doubt, report. You may report questionable behavior by peers, faculty, and/or staff. You are not responsible for adjudicating the merits of a concern. Simply relay your concern (anonymously, if you prefer) to OIE and their staff will investigate as they deem necessary.

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

The UArizona MFA program is an energetic and flexible, fully-funded 3-year program. The faculty are committed to providing the tools for student success, including safe and multivocal workshop spaces; challenging craft courses; and building and respecting policies that protect against discrimination and that maintain appropriate professional boundaries. As well, the program is committed to widening canonical discussions to include voices that are representative of a deep history of diverse American and global literatures. To that end, we include here the latest iteration of the program's Statement on Diversity, Inclusion, and Equity.

PROGRAM STATEMENT ON DIVERSITY, INCLUSION, AND EQUITY:

"The concepts contained in words like 'freedom,' 'justice,' 'democracy' are not common concepts," writes James Baldwin. "On the contrary, they are rare. People are not born knowing what these are. It takes enormous and, above all, individual effort to arrive at the respect for other people that these words imply."

As we welcome the new academic year, we ask what freedom, justice, and democracy might mean to the wide range of experiences and approaches that shape literary art. We recognize that the vitality and risk of art encourage us to produce differing and unique points of view. At the same time, we exist as an interconnected community that relies on dialogue, debate, and appreciation to thrive. What is the writer's role as an individual practitioner, and what is the writer's role within the community? What are the invisible currents that shape our lives, and how do they intersect? We believe that thinking about these questions is central to our program's development as a place where writers assemble and grow.

Audre Lorde describes difference as "a fund of necessary polarities between which our creativity can spark." As working artists, our MFA community understands how essential and significant this concept is to the literary art we practice and teach. As a faculty, we embody a commitment to difference and embody it in diverse ways. We recognize that the core tenets described in this statement are vital to our primary commitment: the mentoring, advising, training, and supervising of early-career artists. Each of us is in a unique position to consider carefully how the integrity of those interactions affects not only an individual's artistic production, but also the spirit of openness and community that we support.

MFA FACULTY

KATE BERNHEIMER

Professor, Fiction

kbernheimer@arizona.edu

ML 438

Kate Bernheimer is the author of a novel trilogy and the story collections Horse, Flower, Bird and How a Mother Weaned Her Girl from Fairy Tales (both with Coffee House Press), and co-author, with Laird Hunt, of the novella Office at Night, which was a 2015 finalist for the Shirley Jackson Awards (Coffee House Press/The Walker Art Center). She has edited four fairy-tale anthologies including the World Fantasy Award winning and bestselling My Mother She Killed Me, My Father He Ate Me: Forty New Fairy Tales and the World Fantasy Award nominated Orpheus: 50 New Myths (both with Penguin Books). She also writes award-winning children's books, published by Penguin Random House Children's Books. Her books have been published in Korean, Turkish, Spanish, Italian, French, Russian, Chinese, and Hebrew editions, among other languages. Her short fiction and short nonfiction have appeared in such places as The New Yorker, The New York Times Sunday Book Review, Bookforum, and The Massachusetts Review. She is also Founder and Editor of Fairy Tale Review (Wayne State University Press Journals Division).

SUSAN BRIANTE

Professor, Poetry

sbriante@arizona.edu

ML 342

Susan Briante is the author most recently of the Pegasus Award winning Defacing the Monument, a series of essays on immigration, archives, aesthetics, and the state. Briante is also the author of three books of poetry: Pioneers in the Study of Motion, Utopia Minus (an Academy of American Poets Notable Book of 2011) and The Market Wonders. Briante writes creative nonfiction and essays. Some of these can be found in The Brooklyn Rail, Gulf Coast, Guernica, and Black Warrior Review, among others. Her poems and essays have been collected in the anthologies The Poetry of Capital, Bodies Built for Game: The Prairie Schooner Anthology of Contemporary Sports Writing, Poems for Political Disaster (Boston Review), and The Arcadia Project: the North American Postmodern Pastoral, among others. Her work was named a notable mention in The Best American Essays of 2019 (edited by Rebecca Solnit) and is forthcoming in The Best American Poetry of 2020 (edited by Tracy K. Smith).

She serves as co-coordinator for the Southwest Field Studies in Writing Program. The program brings MFA students to the US-Mexico border to engage in reciprocal research with community-based environmental and social justice groups as well as to lead workshops with local high school students.

Her research and teaching interests include poetry and poetics, cross-genre writing, experimental autobiography, documentary studies, affect theory, and translation.

FRANCISCO CANTÚ
Assistant Professor
pacocantu@arizona.edu

Francisco Cantú is a writer of essay, memoir, and literary criticism as well as a Spanish to English translator. His first book, The Line Becomes a River, was the winner of the 2018 Los Angeles Times Book Prize and a finalist for the National Book Critics Circle Award in nonfiction. A former Fulbright fellow, he has been the recipient of a Pushcart Prize, a Whiting Award, an Art for Justice fellowship, and the Luis Leal Award for Distinction in Chicano Literature. His writing and translations have been featured in The New Yorker, The New York Review, Granta, Guernica, n+1, and VQR, as well as on This American Life. His work has also been widely anthologized, including in Best American Essays, The Selena Reader, Nepantla Familias, The Nature of Desert Nature, and Shadows of Reality, A Catalogue of W. G. Sebald's Photographic Materials.

Cantú is an Arizona native and a lifelong resident of the Southwest. He received his MFA in creative writing from the University of Arizona in 2016 and subsequently helped establish, alongside Emeritus professor Alison Deming and Professor Susan Briante, the Southwest Field Studies in Writing Program, a reciprocal research residency that fosters work at the intersection of border justice and environmental issues. In 2020 he helped found DETAINED, a community archive formed in partnership with Arizona State University, the Florence Immigrant and Refugee Rights Project, and Salvavision that collects oral histories of people who have been incarcerated in for-profit immigration detention centers. He currently sits on the board of the Borderlands Restoration Network, the ASU Art Museum Community of Practice, and is an editorial board member of the the UA Press Camino del Sol Latinx Literary Series.

BOJAN LOUIS
Associate Professor, Poetry and American Indian Studies
bojanlouis@arizona.edu
Office: ML 432

Bojan Louis (Diné) is the author of the poetry collection Currents (BkMk Press 2017), which received a 2018 American Book Award, and the nonfiction chapbook Troubleshooting Silence in Arizona (The Guillotine Series 2012). Louis has been a resident MacDowell and was the inaugural Virginia G. Piper Fellow-in-Residence at Arizona State University. Graywolf Press published his debut collection of short stories, Sinking Bell in 2022.

FARID MATUK
MFA Program Director
Professor, Poetry
matuk@arizona.edu
ML 488

Farid Matuk is the author of the poetry collections This Is a Nice Neighborhood (Letter Machine Editions, 2010), The Real Horse (University of Arizona Press, 2018), and Moon Mirrored Indivisible (University of Chicago Press, 2025). With visual artist Nancy Friedemann-Sánchez, Matuk created the book-arts project Redolent, recipient of the 2023 Anna Rabinowitz Prize from the Poetry Society of America. From Spanish, Matuk has translated Tilsa Otta's selected poems, The Hormone of Darkness (Graywolf Press, 2024). His poems appear in The Paris Review, The Nation, Brooklyn Rail, Bomb magazine, Lana Turner Journal, Poetry magazine, among others, and they have been anthologized most recently in The Best American Experimental Poetry, Here to Stay: Poetry and Prose from the Undocumented Diaspora, and the Library of America's Latino Poetry. Matuk's work has been supported by residencies from the Headlands Center for the Arts, a visiting Holloway Lectureship in the Practice of Poetry at UC Berkeley, and a 2024 USA Fellowship from United States Artists.

ANDER MONSON
Professor, Nonfiction, Fiction, Poetry, Digital Texts, and Hybrid Works
ander@arizona.edu
ML 429, 621-3250

Ander Monson is the author of nine books of nonfiction, fiction, and poetry, including Predator: a Memoir (Graywolf, 2022). He edits the magazines DIAGRAM <thediagram.com> and March Xness <marchxness.com>, the website Essay Daily <essaydaily.org>, and the New Michigan Press. Though he writes and teaches fiction and poetry in addition to nonfiction, his specialties are primarily in literary nonfiction, the essay, hybrid texts, digital and visual texts, pop culture, and work that perforates and explores the spaces in between genre boundaries.

MANUEL MUÑOZ
Professor, Fiction
munozm@arizona.edu
ML 484, 621-5539

Manuel Muñoz is the author of a novel, What You See in the Dark (Algonquin, 2011) and three story collections, The Faith Healer of Olive Avenue (Algonquin, 2007), Zigzag (Northwestern University Press, 2003) and The Consequences (Graywolf Press, 2022). A finalist for the Frank O'Connor International Short Story Prize, Muñoz is the recipient of a Whiting Writers' Award and three O. Henry Awards. Recent stories have appeared in Glimmer Train, American Short Fiction, and Southwest Review. Muñoz earned his MFA at Cornell University and his BA from Harvard.

Muñoz has received fellowships from the National Endowment for the Arts (2004) and the New York Foundation for the Arts (2008), as well as two O. Henry Awards (2009 and 2015). In 2008, he received a Whiting Writer's Award. He served as a juror for the 2011 O. Henry Awards and for the 2014 PEN/Faulkner Award in Fiction. In 2023 the MacArthur Foundation inducted Muñoz as a MacArthur Fellow.

SARA SAMS

Assistant Professor, Poetry

ML440, 621-9605

sasams@arizona.edu

Sara Sams is the author of Atom City, a book of poetry that scrutinizes various legacies of her Manhattan Project hometown: the received history of the atomic bomb, local mythologies orbiting that narrative, and closer stories of family and inheritance. Reviewing the collection, poet Sarah Vap writes: "Sams shows us what violence and invisible interiority and tenderness is at the core of the American hometown. At the core of the American superpower myth. At the core of American exceptionalism, and uranium, and the atom, itself— which is at the core of everything." Sams grew up in Oak Ridge, Tennessee, and is currently researching the influence particle physics has had on contemporary poetics. Creatively, she is working on new poems about medical science, childbirth, infant surgery, and the legacy of creationist beliefs in the south. She is also at work on a novel about nuclear-reactor-powered ghosts and the opioid crisis in rural Tennessee.

Between 2013 and 2016, Sams received fellowships to teach at the National University of Singapore and for the Ministry of Education in Logroño, Spain. Her experiences teaching abroad solidified her interest in language acquisition and teaching writing in classrooms with second-language students. She has translated poetry from Spanish (David Leo García, Adriana Bañares) and collaborated on a multilingual and interdisciplinary piece of artwork about Jorge Luis Borges and Xul Solar for the Phoenix Art Museum. A graduate of Davidson College (B.A. in English and Spanish) and Arizona State University (M.F.A. in Poetry), Sams's poems and translations have appeared in Blackbird, The Volta, Matter Monthly, The Drunken Boat, Now & Then: The Appalachian Magazine, and elsewhere. She has served on the editorial staff of Parnassus: Poetry in Review and Hayden's Ferry Review; she has also supported student editors as a faculty mentor for The Superstition Review. You can find her work online at saraesams.com.

JOHANNA SKIBSRUD

Professor, Fiction, Poetry

ML 430

jskibsrud@arizona.edu

Johanna Skibsrud teaches English and Creative Writing with special interests in modern and contemporary poetry, fiction, drama, performance studies, and philosophy. She completed her PhD from the University of Montreal in 2012 with a dissertation on the poetry of Wallace Stevens and was awarded a Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council postdoctoral fellowship from 2012-2014. In 2018 she was awarded a Fulbright US Scholars fellowship to study the critical, creative and pedagogical applications of clowning, in part at the École Internationale de Théâtre Philippe Gaulier. Johanna is the author of three novels: Island (Hamish Hamilton Canada 2019), Quartet for the End of Time (Norton 2014), and the Scotiabank Giller Prize winning, The Sentimentalists (Norton 2011), two collections of short fiction: Tiger, Tiger (Hamish Hamilton Canada 2018) and This Will Be Difficult to Explain, and Other Stories (Norton 2012), four collections of poetry: Medium (Book*hug 2024), The Description of the World (Wolsak and Wynn 2016), I Do Not Think that I Could Love a Human Being (Gaspereau 2010) and Late Nights For Wild Cowboys (Gaspereau 2008), and three non-fiction titles: Fool (Routledge 2023), The Poetic Imperative: A Speculative Aesthetics (McGill-Queen's University Press 2020) and "The nothing that is": Essays on Art, Literature and Being (Book*hug 2019). Her writings and essays have appeared, among other places, in Lithub, Granta magazine, and the LA Review of Books.

PROGRAM REQUIREMENTS

The MFA degree requires 42 units (the equivalent of 14 three-unit classes), at least four semesters in residence, and the completion of an acceptable thesis project.

Course requirements:

- Four Creative Writing workshops in Fiction (604), Poetry (609), or Creative Nonfiction (501).
- Four Creative Writing Craft Seminars (596H). Topics vary each semester.
- At least three Electives: Electives may include coursework in the English Department or in other departments, additional workshops, additional ENGL 596H seminars, the CW Pedagogy Preceptorship (required for all students teaching CW workshops for the first time), internships (up to 6 units), and Writing Program preceptorship credits (up to 4 units for Writing Program GTAs). Courses outside English require CW Program Director approval.
- MFA Colloquium, required for all MFA students every semester, is a one-credit, pass/fail course that meets on select Fridays during the semester. This course houses MFA orientation and logistical discussions, conversations with visiting writers and editors, and discussions around professional development.

Thesis project requirement:

- One Thesis Manuscript Independent Study (ENGL 909) taken during student's final semester (3 credits).

The Grad College requires that at least half of the credits needed to complete the degree must be fulfilled by classes for which the student receives a letter grade, instead of classes (such as independent studies, internships, studio) that are Pass/Fail. You can reference the relevant Graduate College policy here. Please be mindful of these classes.

You can reference the university policy on course incompletes here.

ACADEMIC PROCEDURES

ACADEMIC PROBATION

Students with a GPA falling below 3.0 will be placed on academic probation by the Graduate College. These students will be required to meet with the director or their graduate adviser, discuss the steps to be taken to remedy whatever caused the probationary status, and submit a written plan of action to the program.

CHANGING THESIS ADVISER

At any point a student may make a formal request, with a specific rationale, to the program director to switch advisers. The PD will consider these requests in consultation with the student and faculty, as appropriate. As all faculty are well-prepared to work with all students, we strongly discourage thesis adviser change requests purely for reasons of aesthetics or affinity. Students will not be forced to work with faculty they are uncomfortable working with, and there will be no retaliation for the request. Because changing advisers typically means significant shifts in workload for faculty, it may not be possible for the program to accommodate requests for specific advisers.

SWITCHING GENRES & DOUBLE GENRES

We encourage MFA students to take craft courses and workshops outside of their admitted genre. However, because the MFA is ideally used to pursue a significant mastery of a single genre (a complicated enough task in itself!), students are expected to do thesis work in their genre of admission.

If an MFA student wants to apply to do thesis work in a genre outside of the one in which they were admitted (whether they want to switch genres or work in multiple genres, the process is the same), they must formally make an application to the faculty, typically no later than December of their second year, in which they declare their intention, a rationale with brief project proposal (< 5pp), and enclose a writing sample equivalent to the manuscript pages they would use to apply to the program (< 30pp of prose or < 10 poems).

Because of workload and staffing limitations, the program is limited in its ability to accommodate these requests, so it may not be possible to accommodate any individual request, even though the work in question may well be accomplished and very promising. If a student is accepted to do a second thesis in a second genre, that means that they must complete all MFA requirements in both genres (two theses, usually one in fall and one in spring of the final year; two defenses; two committees; 4 workshops and craft courses in each genre).

A much more common (and probably wiser, for most of us) arrangement is to complete the thesis in your genre, and to also work on another book-length project via independent study with a faculty member.

Optional second manuscript:

- As stated above, a thesis project is defined as the culmination of your course work and of your work on a single manuscript under the direction of your thesis advisor.
- For this reason, and because of our inability to fund years of study beyond the standard three-year program, it is very difficult to graduate with two theses. However, you may work on a second manuscript project under the following conditions:
 - You only work on one manuscript at a time.
 - Since the thesis project is typically developed in the spring term of your third year, this leaves the fall of your third year to dedicate toward a second manuscript.
 - You must secure an advisor for this second manuscript project on your own by approaching faculty you hope to work with. Please understand that because of various commitments both to the university and to the field at large, faculty may not always be available to take on this extra labor. Faculty alone determine their availability.
 - If a faculty member agrees to advise your secondary manuscript project, you must work with the PC to enroll in independent study credits to make this work legible on your degree plan and transcript.

FILING A GRIEVANCE

A student should first file the grievance with the PD. If the grievance is about the PD, or if the student feels otherwise uncomfortable speaking directly with the PD, or if the student feels the issue has not been resolved, the student then takes the issue to the Department Head.

Graduate College grievance procedures are available to any student who has exhausted all options within their program and academic college. The Graduate College website provides guidelines to determine whether a complaint falls within its jurisdiction:

<https://grad.arizona.edu/policies/academic-policies/grievance-policy>.

FINANCIAL CONSIDERATIONS

The MFA Program offers fully-funded GTA or other positions to all its students. These positions are typically renewable for up to three years, assuming continued university funds, satisfactory academic progress in the program, and satisfactory performance as an instructor. Other financial aid opportunities are also available through the Graduate College (for more details, see here). If students continue as .5 FTE GTAs, they are only responsible for yearly fees. If you're considering giving up your GTA position, please talk with the PD as soon as possible. It is sometimes possible for the MFA program to cover tuition for students who have relinquished their GTA positions, but we have limited funds with which to do so, and it varies from year to year.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Graduate students may be granted a leave of absence for any reason for up to one academic year. Students will be readmitted without reapplying to the department and the Graduate College. Please see the PC for more information on the Leave of Absence. (Be aware that because of changing faculty leave schedules, a leave of absence may result in your being assigned a different adviser.) Please see the Graduate College Leave of Absence policy here.

LISTSERVS

You will automatically be subscribed to the program listserv for general announcements, award announcements, and various other general Creative Writing MFA business. The subscribers to creativewriting@list.arizona.edu are all the faculty and students in the MFA program. All MFA students (and no faculty) are enrolled to the CW Student List: cwstudents@list.arizona.edu. This list is for topics relevant to our students. You have the choice of emailing your fellow students or the whole program directly on this list.

POLICY ON NON-MFA STUDENTS TAKING MFA COURSES

Graduate students not enrolled in the MFA program who seek admission to MFA courses must query the creative-writing program director in advance. Ideally, they should approach the program director in the previous semester, but in any case they must file a request at least two weeks in advance of the first class meeting. As part of their query they should attach: (1) a short (1-3 paragraph) narrative or summary of their writing and workshop experience at the undergraduate or graduate level and/or at short-term writing workshops, as well as any other pertinent study or career information; (2) a short (1-3 paragraph) statement of their interest in the course. In addition, they may be required to submit a short (5 to 15 pp.) writing sample. After appropriate faculty consultations, the program director will inform the applicant of the decision to allow enrollment or not.

Exceptions to this policy may be made at the discretion of the faculty. Students seeking admission under this policy may be advised to consider other courses that may suit their needs, including enrolling in graduate-level independent studies that incorporate undergraduate creative-writing workshops for appropriate credit, with the graduate-level portion of the workload to be determined in consultation with the professor.

NONDISCRIMINATION AND ANTI-HARASSMENT POLICY: <http://policy.arizona.edu/human-resources/nondiscrimination-and-anti-harassment-policy>.

PROFESSIONAL CONDUCT FOR STUDENTS TO UPHOLD:

Please see the UA's Code of Academic Integrity. All graduate students must sign a responsible conduct of research statement in Gradpath, the Graduate College's academic progress and degree audit site here: <https://grad.arizona.edu/degree-services/gradpath>. This form is an acknowledgement and acceptance of the University's Academic Code of Integrity. For more step-by-step information on this form:

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=OROLVBHAcZQ&feature=youtu.be>.

REGISTRATION

The PC registers students for courses, independent studies, and internships. During preregistration each semester, the PC shares course descriptions via email and asks students for their course choices. Students in their primary genre are given priority for workshops and craft seminars. Second-year students who may not have another chance to work with a certain professor or who need a course for graduation will be given priority over first-year students.

SIMULTANEOUS WORKSHOPS

The program discourages students from taking two workshop courses in one semester, because for most writers it will decrease the usefulness of and your performance in both workshops; choosing to do so requires the approval of the program director.

TAKING COURSES OUTSIDE OF THE CREATIVE WRITING PROGRAM

You are encouraged to take courses outside the Creative Writing program that support your work. For example, almost every semester the Art Department at the University of Arizona offers courses in letterpress printing and bookbinding. For more information please see <https://art.arizona.edu/facilities/book-art-letterpress-lab/>. The MFA in Playwriting offers courses appropriate for our students. We have world-class programs in many disciplines, and while some are highly specialized and require a very particular background, there are many opportunities for curious and dedicated students.

Taking courses outside of the English department will require the approval of the Program Director.

STUDIO HOURS (910 CREDITS)

Third-year students are advised to discuss their plans for the final year with their thesis advisor as soon as possible. In an MFA student's third year, in addition to the 3 thesis (909) credits in their final semester, they may take up to an additional 3 hours of studio credits (writing time with no faculty oversight or involvement) with the approval of their thesis advisor and the program director.

THESIS EXTENSIONS BEYOND PROGRAM TIME FRAME

This is a three-year MFA program, and we fund and support students for up to three years.

See the Graduate College's policies on extended degree completion timelines here.

TRANSFER CREDITS

The UA MFA program does not accept transfer credits.

WORKSHOPS IN OTHER GENRES

Graduate students are admitted into the MFA program based on their work in one genre and are expected to complete their thesis project in their genre of acceptance, but we encourage our students to experiment in other genres. Workshops are open to all students in the program.

FUNDING

TUITION & FEES

A semester of tuition (not including fees) for a graduate student in the English Department in 2025-2026 is $17,506 for a non-resident taking 9 units. The Graduate Teaching Assistantship covers the entire cost of tuition, but students are still responsible for student fees, typically around $59 per semester. For further details: <https://bursar.arizona.edu/tuition>.

WRITING PROGRAM GRADUATE ASSISTANTSHIPS

Offered upon acceptance into the program, these .50 FTE assistantships are renewable for up to three years. They include a salary, tuition waiver, and student health insurance. The typical 2024-2025 salary was $21,750 per academic year (2 semesters) for students teaching in the Writing Program. (Graduate students entering the program with Masters degrees earn a slightly higher stipend.)

CREATIVE WRITING TEACHING ASSISTANTSHIPS

By application for continuing students, these positions are one-class, one-semester assignments teaching or serving as a TA for Introduction to Poetry (209), Fiction (210), or Creative Nonfiction (201) undergraduate workshop, or occasionally, if need arises, a 300-level workshop. Each SPRING semester, students are invited to apply for the next year for these competitively awarded positions. After faculty review of applications, invitations to teach these courses are made by the program director.

FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE FOR TRAVEL

The English Graduate Union (EGU) has limited funds available for travel, typically for graduate students who are GTAs presenting their work at regional or national academic conferences. Students on official program business (such as the editors of Sonora Review representing the journal at the AWP Conference) are typically eligible for these funds. Please see: <https://english.arizona.edu/egu-travel-fund> for more details.

The Graduate and Professional Student Council (GPSC) also has limited funds available for travel (as well as other great opportunities on grants and awards for graduate students!) Please see: <http://gpsc.arizona.edu/> for more details.

FUNDING OPPORTUNITIES

GPSC Research and Project (ReaP) grants:

- <https://gpsc.arizona.edu/research-grants>
- Up to $1500 for research projects

GPSC Professional Opportunities Development Funding

- <https://gpsc.arizona.edu/pod>
- Up to $1500
- “The GPSC recognizes that graduate and professional student education is advanced by events promoting the development of skills necessary to succeed in their fields of study. Therefore, the GPSC strives to support professional development initiatives of graduate and professional students through Professional Opportunity Development funding. Such initiatives and events include, but are not necessarily limited to academic seminars, conferences, meetings with industry representatives, etc. Any group of at least three graduate and/or professional students can apply to the GPSC for funding to support a POD event they are directly involved in planning.”

SBSRI Pre-doctoral dissertation grants

- <https://sbsri.sbs.arizona.edu/sbsri-funding>
- max amount: $500
- “Up to $600 for PhD and Master's level research activities. Allowable expenses include research-related travel, subject payment, supplies, small equipment, and computers and related equipment. These grants do not support publication costs, student/PI supplemental compensation, normal living expenses, conference-related registration fees and/or travel expenses. Students may be awarded only one Pre-doctoral Research Grant; prior awardees are not eligible. GIDP students should contact Beth Stahmer to determine eligibility. See guidelines for further information.”

Carson Scholars Program

- <https://carson.arizona.edu/>
- The Carson Scholars Program offers one-year, one-time- only, $5,000 graduate scholarships to exceptional University of Arizona graduate students committed to interdisciplinary research on environment and society. The scholarships are designed to support and retain University of Arizona graduate students whose research is related to the environment and/or social justice and who are interested in communicating science to a broad audience.

AWP Intro Journals Project

https://www.awpwriter.org/contests/intro_journals_project_overview

Arizona’s MFA program nominates work in fiction, nonfiction, and poetry each year for the Associated Writing Programs (AWP) Intro Journals award. This isn’t a financial award, but it is a prestigious one, and comes with publication in a leading literary journal. Submissions are judged by a panel of faculty members, and the nominees go into contention for the national award. Submissions welcomed by students in any genre.

Named Foundation Awards

The Bill Waller Award for Non-Fiction, the John Weston Award for Fiction, and the Minnie Torrance Award for Poetry are competitive monetary awards in each genre each year. Submissions for these are in the spring semester. Winners are read blind and selected by outside judges. Submissions welcome by students in any genre. More details TBA.

UA Poetry Center Student Contests

- <http://poetry.arizona.edu/opportunities/ua-student-contests>
- $100-$1000
- various deadlines:
- The Hattie Lockett Awards: Three prizes in the amount of $300 are awarded.
- Other Poetry Contests: Five prizes in the amount of $100 to $200 each are awarded.
- The LaVerne Harrell Clark Fiction Prize, offered biannually: One prize of $1000 is awarded.

Writing Program Fellowships and Teaching Awards

- By application for GTAs in the English Department, administered by the Writing Program.

Monique Wittig Scholarship

- Awarded by the Department of Gender & Women's Studies This scholarship honors the life and work of Monique Wittig, French novelist, poet and social theorist. Wittig was a professor at the University of Arizona, Tucson from 1990 to 2003. First published as a novelist, Wittig's fiction revolutionized French literature. Mary McCarthy called her "the best writer anywhere of her generation." Wittig's fiction, as well as theoretical writing, has had a fundamental and worldwide impact upon feminist theory and lesbian and gay theory. In honor of Wittig, the Monique Wittig Writer's Scholarship will foster innovation in literary forms and the connection between politics and language. It will allow University of Arizona graduate and undergraduate students to allocate more time to their writing. MFA students have historically been quite competitive for this award. Deadline for applications each spring via the website for the Department of Gender & Women's Studies.

Grants & Funding are also available to student clubs via ASUA and GPSC.

STEPS TO GRADUATING

SCHEDULING OVERVIEW

Students in their 4th semester:

Submit a thesis proposal and at least three unranked choices for thesis adviser to the Program Director, who makes the assignments. Further details below.

Students in their final semester:

1. Meet with adviser regularly and write, edit, and polish their thesis manuscript.
2. Defend their MFA thesis with their adviser and committee (to be arranged between student and adviser—usually in the last couple weeks of the semester; typically, students submit the MFA thesis and critical intro/aesthetic statement 2 weeks before the thesis defense).
3. Submit the MFA thesis in both PDF and hardcopy (including critical introduction/aesthetic statement) to the program assistant by the deadline. See MFA Thesis and MFA Manuscript Printing sections below.
3. Make sure all your forms are complete on UA GradPath.

For more information, please contact the PC.

PAIRING MFA CANDIDATES WITH THESIS ADVISERS

In the 4th semester in the program, MFA students will meet with faculty in all genres (usually in colloquium) to talk about the thesis process and expectations. After that meeting, students will submit to the PD a 2-page thesis project proposal and an unranked list of preferred faculty advisers.

The PD pairs students with advisers based on four primary criteria:

- student's stated preference and timeline
- balancing thesis advising workload among faculty (considering faculty leaves and our many other commitments)
- the suitability of faculty's aesthetic, research, and teaching interests to the proposed project
- preference for advisers in genre will typically be given to students in genre

At any point a student may make a formal request, with a specific rationale, to the program director to switch advisers. The PD will consider these requests in consultation with the student and faculty, as appropriate. As all faculty are well-prepared to work with all students, we strongly discourage thesis adviser change requests purely for reasons of aesthetic or affinity. Students will not be forced to work with faculty they are uncomfortable working with, and there will be no retaliation for the request. Because changing advisers typically means significant shifts in workload for faculty, it may not be possible for the program to accommodate requests for specific advisers.

MANUSCRIPT COMMITTEE & DEFENSE

The thesis process concludes with a thesis defense. Please note that, based on student preference, a thesis committee can consist solely of the project's adviser and a "defense" of the thesis in such cases would look for more like an editorial meeting or exit interview.

A more formal thesis “defense” typically involves a committee assembled by the student under the guidance of the thesis adviser. Defense committees will consist of three people maximum (with a minimum of two creative writing faculty, including the thesis adviser, typically only one in-genre). The thesis adviser will read and relay comments, the other two will be readers only, and are only expected to read the final draft and be present for the final meeting. The third person on the committee is typically not a member of the CW faculty and is approached by the student at least six months in advance. Please note that the MFA program does not have funds to compensate outside thesis readers. This is a voluntary (and much appreciated) service.

GRAD PATH

The Graduate College has their own set of forms found in GradPath that must be completed to graduate. You can access the Graduate College’s FAQ page for GradPath here. GradPath forms are located in UAccess Student Center under the Advising tab.

The required forms are:

1. Responsible Conduct of Research Statement (CRTVMFA)
2. Plan of Study (CRTVMFA)
3. Master's/Specialist Committee Appointment Form (CRTVMFA)
4. Master's/Specialist Completion Confirmation (CRTVMFA)

The forms must be completed in the order listed as the next form will not open until the previous one is fully approved. Forms will route to the Program Coordinator, Program Director, and Graduate College and once a form is fully approved, students will receive a confirmation email from the Graduate College. Form #4 is completed by the Program Coordinator once the thesis book has been completed. The Program Coordinator can assist students with any questions about GradPath.

MFA THESIS

The MFA thesis is a requirement of the program for all MFA degree candidates and represents the culmination of the writer's workshop study. The suggested length for the manuscript is a minimum of 48 pages for poetry and 100 pages for prose. An aesthetic statement or critical introduction is required. The writing must achieve a professional standard throughout, this being more important than the page count. Exceptions to the page-count standard may be made at the discretion of the thesis adviser and/or program director. It is the student’s responsibility to meet with his or her thesis adviser early to work out expectations regarding length, subject, and form.

The deadline for submitting the book is listed in the program calendar. The degree will not be awarded until the program coordinator receives the thesis; missing the deadline may mean that you will be required to take additional thesis credits for which you may have to pay out of pocket.

All MFA theses are kept in perpetuity by the program for archival purposes. They are not publicly available in digital form. All MFA theses on file may be read onsite at the Poetry Center.

MFA THESIS: AESTHETIC STATEMENT / CRITICAL INTRODUCTION

The aesthetic statement or critical introduction invites the writer to create a cogent orientation of his or her work within a wider context. It must be included as the final pages in the bound manuscript, or as the introduction if appropriate.

For poets, the statement may explore notions of style, voice, linguistics, form, and so on. The poet may also place herself or himself within or without a historical, political, social, or spiritual tradition. The preparation of a precise statement of personal aesthetic implies that the candidate for the MFA is capable of analyzing the poetry and principles of historical and contemporary figures as well as his or her own.

Likewise for prose writers, the statement may discuss the elements of craft, or where the writer falls into or departs from a larger tradition. The aesthetic statement may be considered a statement of location, a creation myth of the writer as an artist, or solely as an introduction to the manuscript, a discussion of literary influences and future plans. The statement should serve the writer—in other words it should be true in an essential way for the writer as an artist.

The recommended length for the statement is at least two to four pages. The timeline for review of the statement is up to the adviser and candidate, but certainly it should be part of the manuscript submitted for the thesis defense.

If you would like to see samples of past aesthetic statements you can find them in the UA Poetry Center where our theses are kept in perpetuity.

MFA THESIS: PRINTING AND BINDING GUIDELINES

The program requires a bound hardcover or paperback MFA thesis as well as a digital copy for archival purposes. Please no spiral binding.

Book cover/title page: Your name and the title must be on the spine of the book. Genre and year of graduation must be included inside, either on the title page, or the last page. This information is essential for archiving your book at the Poetry Center.

Table of contents: Include a table of contents with page numbers if your book is a collection of stories, essays, or poems.

Margins: Your bound manuscript must be approximately 8.5 X 11, 12 point font. Left margins should be about 1.5." The top margin should be about 1.5" and the right and bottom margins should be about 1". You can look at manuscripts in the Poetry Center in order to get a better idea of how the finished manuscript should look.

Please consult the PC if you have questions about where to print your book.

OPPORTUNITIES AND CONNECTIONS

UNIVERSITY OF ARIZONA POETRY CENTER

The University of Arizona Poetry Center, an area of special emphasis within the College of Humanities, was founded in 1960 by writer and philanthropist Ruth Stephan. The Center's nationally acclaimed special collection library of poetry contains over 50,000 items, including books, periodicals, audio and video recordings, rare and limited-edition books, photographs and broadsides. Begun in 1962, the Visiting Poets and Writers Reading Series has featured over 1,000 readers, including most major contemporary U.S. poets, significant international visitors and emerging artists. In addition, the Poetry Center sponsors diverse outreach programs as part of its sustained effort to cultivate audiences for poetry and literature.

UA DISTINGUISHED VISITING WRITERS SERIES (aka THE PROSE SERIES)

Founded in 2001, the UA Prose Series brings writers of distinction to the University of Arizona. The Series is currently sponsored by the Department of English and presented in cooperation with the University of Arizona Poetry Center. The Series has brought such writers as Lydia Davis, Junot Diaz, Joy Williams, and George Saunders to the U of A campus. Conversations with writers usually occur in MFA colloquium, though there are often other opportunities to connect with our visitors. The Series relies on student help to put on the events so please join us in this effort. Prose Series readings can be found on the Poetry Center website as well as the CW program website.

WORKS IN PROGRESS (WIP) READING SERIES

Join a genre-friendly, genre-bending reading series by and for emerging writers, poets, experimentalists & more in the University of Arizona's MFA creative writing program. Run by student coordinators.

SOUTHWEST FIELD STUDIES IN WRITING PROGRAM

The Southwest Field Studies in Writing Program offers current MFA candidates the opportunity to research, write, and work with nonprofit community partners on reciprocally beneficial projects related to environmental and social justice challenges unique to Southern Arizona. The goal of Field Studies is to encourage arts projects that tell the story of the borderlands and, through our work with partner organizations, to empower community members to tell their own stories. Students will have the opportunity to hone skills in field research while experiencing the diverse beauty of the Sonoran Desert. In the past, students have received a fellowship ($1000) as well as paid independent lodging in Patagonia for a two-week period over the summer and have worked with natural resource professionals, joined humanitarian groups on desert water drops, interviewed ranchers, and visited migrant shelters. Calls for applications will be released in late Fall or early Spring semester. In the semester after their participation in the Field Studies program, students will have the opportunity to continue their projects through coursework and/or TA positions, depending on funding.

UA PRESS

The University of Arizona Press, founded in 1959 as a department of the University of Arizona, is a nonprofit publisher of scholarly and regional books. As a delegate of the University of Arizona to the larger world, the Press publishes the work of scholars wherever they may be, concentrating upon scholarship that reflects the special strengths of the University of Arizona, Arizona State University, and Northern Arizona University. The University of Arizona Press publishes about fifty-five books annually and has more than 1,000 books in print. These include scholarly titles in Native studies, anthropology, archaeology, environmental studies, geography, Chicano studies, history, Latin American studies, and the space sciences. It specializes in general interest books on Arizona and the Southwest borderlands. In addition, the Press publishes two series in literature: Sun Tracks: An American Indian Literary Series and Camino del Sol: A Chicana/o Literary Series.

MFA students have often interned or worked at the press, typically in editorial, production, or marketing roles, depending on their interest and background. To apply, send a cover letter, resume, and brief writing sample to internship@uapress.arizona.edu.

ENGLISH GRADUATE STUDENT UNION (EGU)

The English Graduate Union is the association of graduate students in the Department of English. MFA students become members with enrollment in the program. Each year, two MFA students may serve as representatives to the EGU. Founded in 1991, the EGU monitors graduate student workload, advocates for graduate student concerns and issues on many departmental and administrative levels, and mobilizes graduate students across the campus around important issues like health care, tuition remission, and childcare. Creative Writing EGU reps typically serve one-year terms, with one representative elected each semester. The reps serve as liaisons between the students and faculty on a variety of issues affecting the program. For more information on the EGU, please visit the EGU web page.

AWP

Each student receives a membership to AWP throughout their time in the program. Our subscription to the Associated Writing Programs Writer's Chronicle provides a copy for everyone in our program. Copies are also available in the English Department Office. The AWP online job list is also a good place to look for jobs. Once the Program Coordinator registers you for AWP membership (automatically done for every MFA student), you will receive an email with your personal login information.

POETS & WRITERS MAGAZINE

This magazine's lists of competitions and awards, as well as its deadlines for grant applications, are useful for writers. Published six times a year by Poets & Writers, Inc., you can subscribe to the magazine and also to the free newsletter online.

THE NATIONAL WRITERS UNION

The National Writers Union is the trade union for freelance writers of all genres, and even has a Poet & Fiction Writers Caucus. The NWU offers contract advice and grievance resolution, member education, job banks, networking, and social and professional events.

ARIZONA COMMISSION ON THE ARTS

The Arizona Commission on the Arts is the state agency that issues grants to individual artists and organizations, and can be a good source of funding for the projects of MFA students.

SONORA REVIEW

Sonora Review is one of the nation's oldest literary magazines, and is run entirely by MFA students. Positions available include Editor-in-Chief, Managing Editor, Fiction, Nonfiction, and Poetry genre editors, and assistant editor. Genre editors and Editors-in-Chief typically receive academic credit for their work in producing two yearly issues. For more information please contact the current editor in chief or the current faculty advisor.

INFUSE SERIES

Administrative positions running student-based reading series and/or putting together literary salons. For more information, please email Manuel Muñoz.

DIAGRAM

DIAGRAM <thediagram.com>, founded in 2000, is one of the oldest online literary journals. We publish six issues of art, text, and (found, original, and reprinted) schematics a year, sometimes also with art, audio, and digital work, and together with the New Michigan Press, sponsor a yearly chapbook contest with an April deadline. Though DIAGRAM is not a publication of the University of Arizona, it is housed here, since it's edited by Ander Monson. If you're interested in working on the magazine, we often need assistant editors and readers for our yearly chapbook contest.

ESSAY DAILY

Essay Daily <essaydaily.org> is a website hosting about nonfiction, particularly the essay (and its many offshoots and hybrid forms). If "essays are how we speak to one another in print," to quote Edward Hoagland, Essay Daily is accelerating that process. Regular features include columns on the trans essay, the visual essay, Writing the Ellipsis, Rule-Breaking, International Essayists, and the Malcontent (a pseudonymous black hat column in which we're cranky about writers that everyone seems to think are super awesome, except for us). We publish an essay a week, sometimes two, and also feature conversations with editors and publishers of nonfiction, journal editors, and writers with collections of essays out. We're pretty various. Want to get involved? Pitch us by contacting Will Slattery (wjaslattery@gmail.com) or Ander Monson. We're often looking for craft essays or those interested in conducting interviews with an emphasis on nonfiction, or lively, nonacademic engagements with contemporary or classic essays or essayists. Plus we run a yearly advent calendar, publishing an essay a day during Advent.

TUCSON ESSAY CLUB

We are a club devoted to the intersection of The Essay and Tucson, Arizona, a national literary, ecological, and gastronomical treasure. All roads to the essay lead through Tucson, or at least the good ones do, the ones we care about. Kind of screw everybody else. It's hot here. We live here. We write here. We read here. Sometimes some of us run here. The rest of us wisely stay inside.

Tucson Essay Club presents a series of nonboring events for readers, writers, and the curious with a bent towards literary nonfiction. A bunch of weirdos (because we live or have lived or aspire to live again in Tucson, an astonishingly odd city), we aren't always good at talking to people or being out in the world but we're going to try harder to do so because we are more powerful together.

Sign up for free at our Substack (free subscribers receive notices of all public events), and follow us @tucsonessayclub at Bluesky and Instagram.

Or become a Club Member and get access to all Tucson Essay Club benefits for annual dues of $60 a year.

Dues underwrite events, club activities, and to paying writers when possible. Details here or click on MEMBERSHIP above.

MARCH XNESS

March Xness is a literary tournament of essays about music that occurs each March. Each year features a themed, interactive March Madness-style tournament of essays about songs and. 64 songs enter, and we play the songs off against each other with live voting during the month of March each year. In 2017 the tournament was March Fadness (one-hit wonders of the 1990s: the winner was Natalie Imbruglia's "Torn"). In 2018 it was March Shredness, sweet and awful hair metal songs battling it out for the trophy (winner: Loudness's "Crazy Nights"). 2021's theme is the covers bracket: March faxness. Get in touch with Ander Monson if you'd like to get involved.

NEW MICHIGAN PRESS

New Michigan Press is a small chapbook press and the publisher of DIAGRAM. Together with DIAGRAM NMP runs a chapbook contest for prose, poetry, and hybrid work with an April deadline. We've published 59 chapbooks, plus five print anthologies. Our authors include Paul Guest, GC Waldrep, Melanie Rae Thon, Joshua Marie Wilkinson, Mathias Svalina, Joshua Poteat, Ben Mirov, Kristy Bowen, and James Franco. If you're interested in working on the magazine, we often need readers for our yearly chapbook contest (who read mostly in April-June). There may be other opportunities. Talk to Ander Monson if you're interested.

COMMUNITY INTERNSHIPS

MOCA Tucson

Established by artists in 1997, MOCA is Tucson's only museum devoted exclusively to contemporary art from around the globe. Housed in a repurposed firehouse in Downtown Tucson, MOCA Tucson applies creative solutions to the problems of today and tomorrow through the vehicle of contemporary art. We create programming that is ambitious, innovative, and that is responsive to the wants and needs of our community. A pioneering museum of its kind in the community, MOCA Tucson currently hosts rotating exhibitions by locally, nationally, and internationally renowned contemporary artists—critical exhibitions that spur dialogue and that foster empathy between artists and audiences. Our bold programming is highly engaging for diverse audiences and creates a welcoming, inviting space for visitors to learn more about the changing world we live in. MOCA Tucson is an important incubator and connector for contemporary art across the Southwest region and beyond.

MOCA offers a variety of volunteer opportunities for individuals looking to build skills and community in the exciting context of a contemporary art museum. Greet and orient visitors MOCashop, support our weekly/monthly museum programs and special events, and much more. If you're interested in volunteering, contact MOCA at info@moca-tucson.org.

Internships are available on a limited basis in various departments at MOCA, including Public Programs, Exhibitions, and Education. To inquire, please send your CV and a cover letter expressing your interest to info@moca-tucson.org.

POG

POG is a nonprofit organization presenting poetry and multi-arts events to the Tucson community, and recording, archiving, and presenting those events to the national and international communities through POGSound and PENNSound web sites. In its 15-year history POG has presented 200-plus writers, artists, musicians, and critics, including local, national, and international figures. Each year POG presents a minimum of 6 events, and sometimes as many as 11 events. In addition, POG partners with the Tucson Poetry Festival, the University of Arizona Poetry Center, Sonoran Review, and other organizations to make a space in Tucson for avant-garde practices in poetry and related arts forms. Please contact: pog@gopog.org for inquiries.

KORE PRESS

Kore Press is a non-profit literary arts organization that has been publishing women since 1993. As a community of literary activists devoted to bringing forth a diversity of voices through works that meet the highest artistic standards, we publish women's writing that deepens awareness and advances progressive social change.

Publishing internships are available for summer and fall semesters (6-10 hours a week.) Duties may include assisting with publicity; maintaining website; filling book orders; promoting new titles; producing content for monthly email newsletter; communicating with authors; staffing tables at book fairs; general correspondence; grants research, assisting with readings and other events; coordinating fundraising activities and general administrative support. Interns are expected to attend weekly staff and occasional board meetings. Academic credit available.

THE CENTER FOR BIOLOGICAL DIVERSITY

Internships available in writing, editing, and design within this 20-year-old, national nonprofit conservation organization dedicated to protectin endangered species and wild places. Hours to be determined, academic credit to be determined. For more information please visit <https://www.biologicaldiversity.org/about/jobs/>

TERRAIN.ORG: A JOURNAL OF THE BUILT + NATURAL ENVIRONMENTS

Terrain.org is a nonprofit, international online journal based in Tucson, Arizona, that publishes two theme-based issues per year at www.terrain.org. Founded in 1997, Terrain.org is unique because it combines both literary and technical work: editorials, poetry, essays, fiction, articles, reviews, an interview, the ARTerrain gallery, and the UnSprawl case study. We also maintain a regularly updated blog. The journal currently receives over 100,000 visits per issue. For more information please contact Simmons Buntin, Editor-in-Chief.

THE UNIVERSITY OF ARIZONA MUSEUM OF ART

The University of Arizona Museum of Art is interested in class visits and other collaborations with creative writers. To take your students there, contact the museum directly.
