Les Amis de la Maison Baldwin, a nonprofit organization incorporated in France, is pleased to announce the 2019 Intern-in-Residence program. This unpaid opportunity is open to students at the undergraduate, graduate and postgrad levels, as well as to independent community organizers and activists. We are happy to work with your educational institution regarding academic credit and internship supervision.

This is a two-month internship, in which four weeks are performed remotely and four in residence in St. Paul de Vence, hosted in a private bedroom in the historic house that is home to our Welcome Center. Meals will be provided. Depending upon our success in fundraising, travel stipends may be available at the end of the internship period.

We plan to welcome 6 to 8 interns in 2019. We are currently accepting applications for the internship beginning on January 1, 2019, with the one-month residency period starting in mid-January. Interns will work 2 weeks in advance of the residency, 4 weeks onsite, and 2 weeks afterward to wrap up the experience and help train the next intern.

The successful applicant will have a demonstrated interest in James Baldwin, preferably having a history of academic, artistic or community organizing work inspired by his oeuvre. Practical skills are essential as well: facility with computers; experience with social media; excellent language skills, French a huge plus.

To apply, send an email to shannon@lamaisonbaldwin.fr that demonstrates your research about our organization and its mission and describes the skills and energies you could bring to this project. Attach your resume in pdf format, and write “Internship 2019: Your Name” in the subject line.

If you are interested in the internship beginning January 1, please apply no later than December 7, 2018.

The next available internship begins February 15, 2019 for a March residency period. To apply, send your email no later than January 1, 2019.
