

National Day on Writing 2018 Winner
Contest 2: Writing Advice for the Newbies!

Welcome to college Newbie! I know you are coming from high school and think your days of writing endless essays are over, but sorry, they aren't. The difference is now your writing is important. College English is a different world. Your writing is used to impact your views on the world. Your writing will lead you to research things you never thought you would know and open your eyes to so many new cultures. English composition isn't here to make your life harder, it's here to introduce you to a whole new side of yourself. Enjoy it while it lasts!

~your college graduate!

By: Ally Georgagi

Instructor: Logan Phillips